LOCAL BRIEFITIES.

Matters of Minor Moment in and About the City.

MATINEE at the Opera House to-day.
OPERA HOUSE this evening—"Romance of 'Coco' Hollow."

The picking department at the Aetna-Standard broke down yesterday.

YESTERDAY the police force, fire department members and city officials received their salaries for March.

An excursion to Georgia under very attractive terms will leave over the B. & O. road to-day. The particulars are given in the advertising columns.

J. A. HOLLIDAY & SON announce in another column that they have engaged the services of Charles P. Hamilton, the well known architect and superintendent.

The funeral of the late C. P. Brown will take place at 3 o'clock from his late home at No. 66 Fifteenth street. It is a sad coincidence that young Mr. Theodore Miller will be buried at 2 o'clock from his parents' home at 77 Fifteenth street.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

Neil Quinn is visiting old friends at Homestead.

Charles Kline, of the Sistersville Oil Review, was in the city yesterday on business.

Dr. Henry Brannon is able to be out after a serious siege of illness, lasting several weeks.

Yesterday old man Matthias, a well known resident, was walking on Fourteenth street near Main, when he fell from exhaustion and weakness. He has been ill for some time. He was taken to the city building, and later was cared for by friends. He has no relatives in this country. He is a man of education and fine attainments and was once active in the insurance business.

Mr. George A. Burt has been elected Director and later Vice-President and General Manager of the Ohio River Railroad. Mr. Burt is an ex-General Superintendent of the Panama Railroad Company; he was General Manager of the Brazil Mail Steamship Co., and until the recent sale of the vessels comprising the Panama Railroad Company's Columbian Line was the representative of the owners of these vessels.—Railroad Gazette.

Rev. G. W. Chalfant has decided to remain as pastor of the Park avenue church at Pittsburgh, and so announced from the pulpit on Sunday. He told the committee that was appointed to speak with him in regard to his reconsidering his determination to resign that he was now fully convinced that his field of labor was with his present congregation and that he would make no further effort to sever his relations.

At Clerk Hook's Office.

Clerk Hook yesterday issued a marriage license to Freeman Jackson, aged 25, and Julia Craig, aged 21, both of McKeesport, Pa.

A deed was admitted to record from the Stone church cemetery association to Henry Herwig's heirs, September 25, 1894, by which lot 79 in that cemetery is transferred to the party of the second part.

An Old Citizen Dies.

Yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Mr. David Acker, an old and respected citizen of the South Side, died after a lingering illness brought about by his extreme old age, which culminated in a stroke of paralysis. County Coroner Schultz held an inquest, and found a verdict in accordance with the facts. Mr. Acker was in his eighty-ninth year.

IN THE SQUIRES' COURTS.

Unusual Activity in the Local Criminal Circles.

Last evening William McCullough swore out a warrant in Squire Gillespie's court charging Jake Kiestor, of Sistersville, with stealing from him a pair of horae clippers valued at $1. Special Officer Lukins found Kiestor on the Den Hur, about to leave for his home. He was arraigned before the justice and in default of bail was sent to jail for a hearing to-day at 9 a. m.

Later six keepers of houses of ill fame were brought before the same justice on warrants sworn out by a woman living near. They were George Frank, Nellie White, Ida Blake, Clara Porter and Elmo Earl and Mollie Fleming. They gave bond for their appearance at 4:30 to-day.

William Holden was arraigned before Squire Phillips yesterday on a charge of stealing a mule from Mr. Dimmick some time ago. He admitted he was with the man who had the mule, but denied his complicity in the theft. He was sent to jail for a hearing at 2 p. m. to-day.

FALL OF AN ELEVATOR

At Mountville Ends Disastrously for W. P. Gray—Others Escaped Injury.

Sunday evening about 10 o'clock W. P. Gray, accompanied by J. D. Burley and Daniel Shaler, went into the new store room of Gatts & Gray's, as was Mr. Gray's usual custom on that evening before going home. They heard a noise in the ware room, but upon investigation they found nothing unusual. On the second floor they stepped on the elevator to descend. As they did so it gave way, dropping to the cellar below, a distance of about twenty feet. The result was disastrous, Mr. Shafer being the worst hurt, having his left leg broken below the knee.

Mr. Shafer is engineer at the penitentiary and will be laid off for several weeks. Medical aid was summoned and he was removed to his room at the Johnston hotel. Mr. Gray got off with a slight wound on the right ear and Mr. Burley had his back strained and his nose scratched. The whole affair might have been more serious.

THE BISMARCK FEIER.

The Arion Society's Celebration this Evening Ends Fair to be a Brilliant Success.

This evening the Arion society will have at its hall on the South Side a celebration and banquet or Kommerz in honor of the eightieth birthday of "The Iron Chancellor," Prince von Bismarck, of Germany. A programme has been arranged which promises much in the way of instruction as well as entertainment. Music will be furnished by the Opera House orchestra, and also vocal music by the Arion singing society. Mr. F. H. Lange will read a poem appropriate to the occasion, and Rev. William Ulfert will make an address in German on Bismarck's life and character. After vocal music Dr. G. A. Aschmann will make an address in English, followed by a chorus. Professor C. A. Schafer, a representative German-American, will speak on "The Influence of Bismarck's Career on German American Character," and there will be an original ode by Dr. C. F. Ulrich. Impromptu speeches and toasts will follow at the banquet and from the interest manifested in advance it is safe to say there will be one of the largest assemblages the hall has held for a long time.

A New Enterprise Here.

McKown & Martin have about made arrangements for the manufacture in Wheeling of the patent "New Departure" oil can, for which they have purchased the patent right for West Virginia. It is not necessary to lift the can to pour the oil, but by a syphon arrangement it is drawn out of a spout at the side. The enterprising owners of the patent claim that they can sell this can cheaper at retail than any approved style of can can be produced by the factory. It bids fair to add materially to the industrial activity of Wheeling.

Yesterday Was Moving Day.

Yesterday was "All Fool's Day," otherwise moving day, and there seemed to be more than the average amount of moving done. The rain of the forenoon made it very unpleasant, but it did not seem to discourage many people, probably because they could not put off till to-day what had to be done yesterday.
